We recruit for such a diverse range of construction roles, from labourers through to architects, and CV-Library offers us a variety of candidates which we haven't found anywhere else. Through a combination of posting our jobs on the site, and searching the database ourselves, we definitely find that we get the highest application rates through CV-Library, when compared to the other job boards. Furthermore, the customer service we receive is second to none; everyone we've spoken to in the company has been amazing and extremely helpful every step of the way, and the feedback I get from my team is that we couldn't live without CV-Library.
